HAVE YOU SEEN ALONZO? HE HAS A HOT TIME WITH THE SAUSAGE WAGON.

A CHAT WITH THE JUNIOR FAMILY

The Junior Call this week is full of the sort of reading and stories that children love, and it will make the gladdest heart a little happier. Boys and girls will get great kicks out of this issue, and parents and teachers will find it both informative and entertaining.

A LITERARY CHAT WITH THE JUNIORS

The Junior Call is a literary magazine that offers stories and poems for children. This week's issue features a variety of authors, including Bertha Busch, the author of "The Weatherman's Journal," and Andrew Waring, who has contributed a poem titled "The Pig and the Pop." The magazine is aimed at promoting literacy and encouraging young readers to develop a love for reading.

GOOD STORIES IN FEW WORDS AND BRIEF, POINTED POEMS

The Skylark

Helen Irwin Jones

With the first rays of sun,
With the first sprigs of green,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,

The Skylark

The Skylark

I must rise and go to sea,
I must rise and go to sea,
